HOW TO PACK JEWELRY LIKE A STYLIST

FROM POOLSIDE PEARLS TO SCULPTURAL DESERT GOLD, THESE SUN-SOAKED JEWELS ARE REWRITING THE RULES OF RESORT WEAR. HERE'S YOUR ULTIMATE GUIDE TO GETAWAY GLAMOUR. BY SMITHA SADANANDAN

Vacation dressing begins with jewelry: colored stones, soft pearls, and unapologetic glamour. Sun-drenched, ocean-inspired, and effortlessly versatile — this season’s jewelry is designed to channel vacation mode. From stackable essentials in coral, moonstones, pearls, and turquoise to statement pieces and itty-bitty diamonds dangling from anklets, here are the jewels rewriting the rules of resort wear.

Your suitcase isn’t complete without a hit of gem-fueled fun accessories. And the best way to do that? Pick pieces that capture the spirit of escape. From adventurous safaris to barefoot beach breaks, city strolls to resort soirées, our edit of holiday trends and jewels are crafted to keep pace with every kind of holiday imaginable. As you pack flowy and bright summer dresses, sequined kaftans and sensual swimsuits for your next holiday, think sculptural gold for desert light, luminous pearls, corals, opals and turquoise for seaside ease, bold color pops of delicious gems for alfresco dinners, and layered talismans featuring malachite, lapis lazuli, or tiger’s eye for treasure-hunting through city streets. Layer your pieces, mix and match a few, and lock your look with some statement pieces perfect for sunset dinners on the terrace.

The key is choosing versatile pieces that also offer a subtle nod to the destination. Mix and match metals, and bravely team up silver or white gold with yellow gold. Choose jewelry that won’t be damaged by salty sea water or chlorinated pool water.

Everyday Essentials

While gemmy pieces or swishy diamond and gold earrings worn for an alfresco supper are a great way to channel personal style, effortless accents featuring diamond-studded body chains and dainty diamond rings also add additional sparkle. Pieces that carry a personal meaning or tell a story special to you and evoke memories can surely brighten your holiday. Body Talk

Anklets are officially the jewels of the season. Whether you pick a turquoise bead and diamond rondelle accented pieces by Jacquie Aiche, shells on cords by Sara Beltran of Dezso, or rows of gold miniature shells punctuated with round diamonds by Anita Ko, an anklet is sure to cheer up your sandals and painted toenails. Hand jewels from Ailes, a diamond pave snake anklet, or a shaker diamond body jewel, both by Jacquie Aiche, as well as nail rings and palm cuffs from Bijules, are ways to glam things up further. Bling up your fingers with stylish nail rings from Bijouq, the brand's pretty pieces, set with diamonds and featuring coral, turquoise, mother-of-pearl, and malachite, are essential vacation jewels.

Beaded Bliss

Beads are back in a big way. Rendered across necklaces, bracelets, and earrings, they bring a sense of color and style to the holiday wardrobe. Ananya Malhotra's Chakra bracelets, strung with beads made from African amethyst, strawberry beryl, kunzite, pearls, lapis lazuli, and multi-colored tourmalines, pack the right punch of color and style. Meanwhile, playful beaded stacks from Beck, Anna Maccieri Rossi, Renna, Guitam, Luis Morais, Imperfect Grace, Lito, Charmaleena, and Toi offer plenty of mix-and-match potential. Combine different bead sizes, or pair beaded strands with metallics such as gold or silver, to add contrast and weight. Try Boochier's beaded hoops or Buddha Mama's enamelled bracelets for a feel-good, high-impact look.

Sea, Sky & Earth

Shells and sea creatures are everywhere. Clams, oysters, fish, whales, seahorses, and cowries reimagined in enamel, gemstones, and gold. This year, ocean motifs are no longer a novelty; they are holiday essentials. Aquamarine, green fluorite, and coral breathe new life into sea-inspired jewelry, with a heavy splash of mermaid-core influence. Cords, silk threads, and bead necklaces strung with natural gold-dipped shells or gold-crafted seashells are a tactile reminder of summer.

Francesca Villa's Fantasia collection delivers just the right amount of whimsy with whales and mermaids, seahorses and crabs setting off on their adventures. Look to CCWW's sculptural seashells, Selim Mouzannar's enamelled fish pendants and earrings, Karina Choudhrie's skipping octopuses and starfish-on-unicycles for pieces that toe the line between fantasy and fine jewelry.

Designers such as Renato Cipullo, Sara Beltrán, Brent Neale, Beck, Jenna Blake, Imperfect Grace, Renna, and Onirikka are all delving deep into marine motifs, proving that ocean-inspired designs are all the rage. For a desert holiday, try textured gold jewelry or pieces accented with brown-hued gems, such as citrine, topaz, garnet, and quartz. On safari? Tiger's eye pairs beautifully with sun-kissed landscapes. Heading into the mountains? Malachite, leafy enamelled motifs, and carved gemstone florals are a natural fit. An earlier collection, Dieci, by Sorellina's Kim and Nicole Carosella features a lovely palette of colored gemstones inspired by salty, sun-kissed days spent on the islands of Italy. "Being on the boat, swimming in the Mediterranean, and eating gelato while wandering through the cobblestone streets were our favorite memories," recall the siblings. The designers employed custom-cut ceruleite, yellow opal, emeralds, padparadscha, and sapphire to evoke the freshness of lemon, the winding cobblestone pathways, the sea breeze, and the ocean waves across 18k gold jewelry.

Earlier this year, Shari Cohen of Seal & Scribe introduced a capsule collection titled Hidden Messages: Passport Edition. The chunky statement refers to popular travel destinations like Cannes, Portofino, and Capri. The French and Italian Rivieras, cliffside cafes of Portofino with gazebos of lemons overhead, the joyfulness of St. Tropez, and old school romance associated with Cannes and Monaco — all became her muse as she went about sourcing corals, chrysoptase, aquamarine, turquoise, and chalcedony to embellish the rings. "Each of the rings in the collection captures a different area with a motto that expresses the feeling of what it was like or what it would be like to be there,” she adds.

If you are an avid traveler, you will adore Maison Tjoeng’s Postcard collection, which features charms adorned with enamel, gems, and diamonds. While these depict Saint-Jean-Cap-Ferrat, Capri, Nantucket, and Honolulu, the Postage Stamp charms feature motifs reminiscent of the Amalfi coast, Hawaii, and Cape Cod. These charms serve as a sentimental touchstone to cherished memories and beloved locations around the world.

Serious Glamour

Statement jewelry doesn’t always mean more. Whether it’s a sculptural cuff, a pair of oversized earrings, or a gem-traced torque necklace, the best bold pieces tell their own story. Look for unusual cuts, sculptural forms, distinctive textures, or elements that evoke a sense of movement. It might be a necklace with graduated sapphires, a cocktail ring that references architecture, or a design drawn from a personal archive or myth. From Van Cleef & Arpels and Neha Dani to Karina Choudhrie and Andrea Matos Lopes, standout designs can be found across a broad spectrum. Explore striking pieces from Nada Ghazal, Emily P Wheeler, LOF, Maison H, Miseno, Renato Cippulo, Anabella Chan, Bijouq, Marina B, Peruffo, Farah Khan, Yael, State Property, Melissa Kaye, Mason & Books, Robinson Pelham, Macadam, Noora Shawqi, and Harwell Godfrey — all designers who know how to make jewelry that speaks for itself.
